FUTURE SHAKE

Imagine the look of heavy wood shake without the problems associated with wood. Future Shake will not crack, split, burn, curl or blow off. The shakes unique interlocking installation conceals and protects unsightly fasteners. The appearance of Heavy Shake adds a classic rustic style to your home, as well as fire safety for your family. Future Shake is manufactured to resemble a heavy deep grained, random shake. Each shake impression varies in thickness, matching a distinctive feature found only in wood shakes.

SPANISH & MEDITERRANEAN TILE

Spanish Tile by Future Roof Systems is a metal roofing panel with deep continuous "S" folds producing an esthetically pleasing tile configuration. The panel is installed vertically up the roof from the eave to the ridge. The roof has exposed colored-to-match fasteners and is installed over a solid deck with a minimum 30# felt underlayment. It's lightweight, allows installation over existing composition roofs without the need for tear-off and disposal (subject to local codes). Spanish Tile has the look of clay or concrete tile roofs without the problems associated with weight. In most cases Spanish Tile by Future Roof Systems is 1/10 the weight of these products. No structural reinforcement is required on re-roof applications.

Mediterranean Tile offers homeowners an attractive mission tile appearance. Unlike the Spanish tile, Mediterranean tile fasteners are concealed, protecting them from harsh weather conditions. This aesthetically pleasing, lightweight and durable tile profile is fast becoming a favorite.
